

Perspectives in HIV Drug Resistance

Encouraging dialogue to meet a critical challenge in HIV care

The American Academy of HIV Medicine (AAHIVM) will reveal findings from a national survey of patient and prescriber perceptions of HIV drug resistance. Please join a panel of experts who will share their perspectives on the evolution of HIV drug resistance, its impact, and strategies to manage this critical challenge in HIV care.

FEATURED SPEAKERS INCLUDE:

Howard Grossman, M.D.

Executive Director

American Academy of HIV Medicine

Martin Markowitz, M.D.

Clinical Director, Staff Investigator

Aaron Diamond AIDS Research Center

Aaron Diamond Professor

Rockefeller University

Peter Piliero, M.D.

Executive Director, Clinical and Scientific Affairs, Virology

Boehringer Ingelheim Pharmaceuticals, Inc.

John Baxter, M.D.

Professor of Medicine, Division of Infectious Diseases

Cooper University Hospital

UMDNJ-Robert Wood Johnson Medical School

Bonnie Goldman

Editorial Director

The Body

MARK YOUR CALENDAR:

Tuesday, July 18, 2006

11:00 AM – 1:00 PM

HOUSING WORKS BOOKSTORE CAFÉ

126 CROSBY STREET

NEW YORK, NEW YORK 10012

For more information, contact:

Lauren Graham

212-537-8037 • lgraham@gcigroup.com

This event is made possible by a sponsorship from Boehringer Ingelheim Pharmaceuticals, Inc.

